KING OF THE STUNTMEN
EVEL KNieVEL
ESCAPE FROM SKULL CANYON

Assembly and Play Instructions

Evel Knievel—the "King of the Stuntmen"! He started racing motorcycles at age 15; and was soon so good that he had to move on to new challenges. He could start a race from the back row, facing in the opposite direction, and still win. So he turned to stunting and earned a reputation as a "terror on wheels"—crashing through fire walls, jumping boxes filled with rattlesnakes, zipping down the landing ramp past leashed mountain lions waiting at the end. And of course, today he thrills crowds performing the "world's longest motorcycle jump" over parked cars and trucks.

It is only fitting for Evel to be pitted against one more sensational challenge. So we have dared him to "Escape from Skull Canyon." Imagine if you will, Evel, armed only with his skill on his cycle, trying to escape through "Skull Canyon." The Hairy Monster—who reigns supreme at the Canyon has put his "Voodoo" signs on either side of the Canyon, has placed boulders blocking passage through the canyon, has thrown "logs" in front of the entrance to the canyon, and stands atop one of the canyon peaks daring Evel to escape. Evel revs up his cycle and roars toward the Canyon. Does he make it through or does the Monster win? Now it's all up to you—it's your challenge as well as Evel's—You control his destiny—Good Luck!
